

CONTAINERSHIP SIZE: THE PANAMAX

SIMPLIFYING OCEAN LOGISTICS

Panamax and Neo-Panamax ships can be routed through the Panama Canal in Central America, as they are as wide as the Canal allows. Panamax ships carry up to 5,000 TEUs; Neo-Panamax, introduced after the canal's expansion, 14,000.

Post-Panamax ships are even wider and must bypass the Canal. They and other Ultra-Large Container Vessels (ULCV) carry the largest cargo amount, some well in excess of 20,000 TEUs.
