

In Case of Road Congestions

One of the foreseen traffic effects in the case of hard Brexit is heavy congestion at the entry points for road freight. In order to be able to oversee all alternative options, DHL is assessing short sea transportation options for OFR/Channel Connect & AFR Plus options for AFR and can offer these on request. As capacity will be limited, we will give our existing clients priority in case such services are requested.

Please get in touch with your customer representative to understand what options DHL can offer you to mitigate the risks.
