

Principles

Assumptions that underpin our tariff proposal

- Your current or expected shipping volume and profile as known to DHL at the time this offer was prepared, is the basis for this tariff proposal.
- Should your actual shipping volume or profile significantly deviate from provided shipping volume; our tariff quotation needs to be adjusted accordingly.
- DHL tariffs are valid on a door-to-door basis and apply for business to business shipments only.
- Our tariff proposal is based on DHL standard operational and administrative processes.
- Tariffs will be subject to operational validation.
- Eventual retroactively requested services will be subject to further negotiation.
- In case no specific tariff is agreed upon, the executed transport will be charged based on the standard DHL tariff

Not included in our tariff proposal

- Proposed tariffs are exclusive of fuel surcharge and are subject to unforeseen charges that are out of control of DHL, i.e. Road toll, Security, currency exchange rates and any surcharges that could not be reasonably anticipated in the preparation of this proposal.
- Tariffs are exclusive of VAT, duties & taxes, insurance, customs clearance, related documents and other additional services.
- More information on our wide spectrum of additional services can be found in this document under the tab 'Value-added services'.

Fuel

- DHL Freight applies a flexible fuel surcharge which is based on the percentage that fuel cost represents in the total freight cost.
- The calculation of the fuel Surcharge is based on the EU Bulletin (EU-28) and will apply for all countries.
- The advantages of this European flexible fuel surcharge are:
 - One fuel surcharge for all markets within Europe.
 - Fuel surcharge is transparent: a separate line-item on your invoice.
 - Fuel surcharge is directly linked to fuel price fluctuations.
- The fuel surcharge is reviewed once per month.
- DHL Freight will not accept a negative fuel surcharge
- The current fuel surcharge and historic data are available on request.

Currency

- Tariffs are quoted in EURO.
- The rates are based on the exchange rates of the euro at the moment of the proposal, as shown on the rates sheet.
- In case of currency fluctuations DHL Freight reserves the right to modify rates or apply a currency adjustment factor during the agreed period of validity.
