Our unique Import Express service is available from or between more than 200 different countries, with no need for local brokers or forwarders to get involved at any step in the process. A single phone call is all it takes to arrange a collection in Hong Kong or New York, to then expect a delivery in Berlin or Johannesburg, with the all inclusive price invoiced in your local currency. It really is as simple as that.

DHL IMPORT EXPRESS WORLDWIDE lets you deliver direct to any third party or country, eliminating the need for storage or other costs in your supply chain. This not only saves overall inventory costs, but also reduces the time to market. And better cash flows mean a healthier bottom line and a robust supply chain.
